SUCCESSFUL MEETING

At the Second M. E. Church, South, Last Night—Now For the Success of the Meetings at the Courthouse

The meeting last night at the Second M. E. Church, South, in the interest of the Men and Boys Religion and Forward Movement was one of the largest attended and most interesting ever held in that part of the city. The program as published was fully carried out. The idea of the meeting was to impress upon the people the important part in life the boys are expected to take and to create more interest in the meetings to be held at the Courthouse this week, and if one is to judge from the way the people in that section are taking hold of the work success is assured.

The men of Mayville are looking after their boys' interest when they take a hand in the Men's Religion and Forward Movement, for it deals with boys more so than men, as the boys are the future of Mayville.

Two men come each day from Louisville, who will speak at the Courthouse Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights to stimulate the men and boys to attend Church and Sunday-school and be a blessing to the world instead of a curse. Let every woman urge the men and boys to attend each session of the campaign rally for Christ.

AN ENRAGED WOMAN

With a Big Gun Makes Things Lively in Vicinity of Market and Third Streets

Yesterday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the quietude at the corner of Third and Market streets was suddenly and rudely dispelled by the discharge of five revolver shots in rapid succession.

When the smoke of battle had wafted away and the sulphurous atmosphere had clarified, and the discovery made that no one was dead or wounded in consequence of the fusillade, an investigation was made as to the perpetrator and cause of the uproar.

It developed that a mulatto woman, Brashier by name, and a well known character in court circles, was the gun wielder, and a respectable colored man, William Dixie, was the target for the virago's vengeance.

Dixie had given evidence before the Circuit Court regarding the character of the house run by the woman, which is said to have caused the murderous assault.

When the woman began shooting, Dixie, notwithstanding he has an artificial limb, made a hasty retreat into M. C. Russell Co.'s door in Market street, and, owing to his quick getaway and the woman's bad aim, he escaped without a scratch.

Officer Ryan was promptly at hand and arrested the woman, who submitted without resistance.

There are other charges against her besides yesterday's shooting that she will have to answer, and it is more than likely that she will experience considerable difficulty before she frees herself of her predicament.

She was taken before Police Judge Whitaker.

And we succeeded! Look for the Round Yellow Ticket. It is on the stockings that in wear and price meet every requirement, made of best quality yarn, with extra thread in toe and heel. March came in like a lion and stayed in like the whole menagerie. Even our tempting display of spring goods didn't seem powerful enough to ward off the blizzards. However, the sun is getting around toward our side, and that, with the intelligent and powerful aid of the drygoods men's advertisements, ought to break the backbone of old Boreas. We propose now to fire one parting salute to March. The people will remember it—if the clerk of the weather don't.

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Pursuant to a call of the Republican State Central Committee there will be a Republican County Convention at the Court House in the City of Maysville, Ky., on April 6th, 1912, at 1:30 p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to the District Convention which meets at Maysville on April 9th, 1912, and the State Convention which meets at Louisville, Ky., April 10th, 1912.

All Republicans are requested to keep this date in mind and be present at the convention.

H. P. PURCELL, Chairman
Mason County Republican Committee.
Maysville, Ky., March 25th, 1912.

What if the great Teddy should develop into Uncle Sam's star undesirable citizen?

Primaries and state conventions all over the country are engaging the attention of the politicians this week.

Kentucky has now 120 counties, which is about twenty more than the State ought to have.—Sharpshurg World.

A bill passed the Kentucky Legislature making bluegrass the State flower and the tulip the State tree. Most of the members thought they were voting for the blue glass and the jilip.—Dover News.

United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, whether he remains in office or not, is going to remain in Washington just the same. He has just completed a splendid home on fashionable Sixteenth street, one of the finest on that thoroughfare of handsome residences. His talents have brought him affluence and now he is ready to quit the political harness and enjoy his wealth.

Hon. J. B. Foraker's address at the constitutional convention was considerate and forceful. The time was mostly devoted to an argument against the initiative and referendum and the recall. It was a clean-cut argument throughout, and its many strong points were thoroughly enjoyed and applauded by the great audience. He contended there was no occasion to depart from the wisdom of a government that has brought this nation such progress, liberty and great achievement as no nation on the earth has equaled. While the address showed great spirit it was all through tempered by a conservative tone. One would judge from the applause that greeted the orator that his views were generally approved.—Ohio State Journal.

Political Pickings

Philadelphia Inquirer: Colonel Roosevelt, formerly the great "I am," is becoming the great "I was."

New York Tribune: The Colonel will go on the stump, so if the nomination seeks him it will be sure to find him.

Buffalo Courier: There is every indication that the Roosevelt headquarters in New York, Washington and Chicago are well supplied with money and not hot air.

St. Louis Times: As Colonel Roosevelt has never been charged with being gun shy, it is not likely that he will be stampeded when his boom explodes.

Richmond Times-Dispatch: A "Soap Box Primary" ought to suit a Jack-in-the-box candidate.

Albany Argus: President Taft sees danger in the "soap box" presidential primary. The voters of the United States cannot however, any dignity in presidential stamping tours.

Mr. Roosevelt is posing as a Progressive. He is nothing of the kind. He has been a regular machine politician for most of his political life. He was a beneficiary of Platt and Quay. He is in many respects the cleverest political manipulator and wire-puller in the United States. He did not turn up as a hammer of hosses until 1910, and then only for his own purposes and in conjunction with some of the most hardened and impudent bosses in the State of New York.

He was a standpatter on the tariff. He opposed while in office the publication of campaign contributions before elections. He never said a word for direct primaries, now so immediate to his bosom, until a certain memorable meeting in the Harvard yard in 1910. He has priggish and imperfectly assimilated a number of ideas. He is, in fact, the Autolycus of politics. Neither Bryan nor LaFollette can leave a theory outdoors of a night without its being "conveyed" by this nimble and prehensile Colonel.

The name, the label, the votes, that is all Colonel Roosevelt wants of Progressive Republicans; and his most progressive moments are usually followed by reserves and qualifications to convince "Big Business" and "the reactionaries" that there is no need to be frightened and that his fury is merely for publication.

The one notion which is particularly and solely Rooseveltian is the recall of judicial decisions by the mob. That is not progressive; even the much enduring faithful servitor, Dr. Lyman Abbott, gags at that.

It is hard to see how anybody not habitually exposed to the fascinating, exuberant, many colored personality of Colonel Roosevelt can continue to believe him sincere in any belief except himself. The western Progressives were suspicious of him after Saratoga in 1910. His characteristic loyalty to the LaFollette campaign can not have won him any new sympathies. There are multitudes of earnest and convinced Progressive Republicans. The administration of Mr. Taft, a doer, whereas his predecessor was mainly a sponger, has been sanely and progressively Republican. He will do, or try to do, what he promises to do. What promise of Theodore Roosevelt can anybody trust henceforth?—New York Sun.

Foolish Philosophy.

It's easier to make love than it is always to mean it.

Some people will register a kick if they get more than their money's worth.

You may become quite popular with some people by keeping out of their way.

An old bachelor may not know what he missed by not marrying—but peace hath her victories just the same.—Chicago News.

"A friend of a friend may be deemed a social grafter," according to a story related by Clifton Crawford of "The Quaker Girl" Company.

"Francis Wilson, having spent several summers at a small hotel in Vermont, advised John Mason, who was in search of a quiet place for rest, to go there, telling the proprietor that he was Wilson's friend. Mason arrived at the small town and made his way to the inn. He found the proprietor sitting on the front porch with his chair tipped back, smoking a corn-cob pipe.

"I am Mr. Mason," he began. "I have come here through a friend of mine, Mr. Francis Wilson."

"The landlord, quite unconcerned, kept on smoking. Thinking he might be deaf, the newcomer started again, somewhat louder. 'I am Mr. Mason; I have come here through a friend of mine, Mr. Francis Wilson.' Still no response. Convinced of his deafness, Mr. Mason began once more. 'I say,' he roared, 'I am Mr. Mason and have come here through a friend of mine, Mr. Francis Wilson.'

"The proprietor slowly took his pipe from his mouth and turned to Mason. 'I heard you the first time,' he said calmly. 'What do you expect me to do, kiss you?'"

SELECTED FOR SUPREME COURT

The nomination of Mahlon Pitney, chancellor of the state of New Jersey, to be an associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, was sent to the senate the other day by President Taft. He will succeed the late John M. Harlan of Kentucky.

The president also nominated Julius M. Meyer of New York city to be judge of the United States district court for southern New York, and Ferdinand A. Golder of Cassville, Wis., to be district judge for the eastern district of Wisconsin.

The statement that Chancellor Pitney would be named as the successor of Justice John M. Harlan was made at the White House subsequent to a call by John W. Griggs, former attorney-general of the United States, and a delegation of New Jersey lawyers, all of whom spoke of Judge Pitney in the highest terms.

The fact that Mr. Taft would likely select Chancellor Pitney for the Supreme Court vacancy came as a surprise, and did not become known until the night previous to the nomination, and then it was discussed only among some of the president's closest friends. Unusual efforts were made to guard the secret.

Judge Pitney has already made a name for himself in state and national politics as congressman and president of the New Jersey state senate.

His elementary schooling was received at his home town, after which he entered Princeton, from which he graduated in 1879. He received the degree of master of arts in 1882 and that of doctor of laws in 1908.

HELPS COOK AND SERVE MEAL

Girls employed in the Outlook offices held their heads high the other day and regarded with a somewhat superior air the other girls in the same building in New York. No less a personage than Miss Ethel Roosevelt took luncheon with them in their combined dining room and kitchen on the second floor.

Miss Roosevelt not only said she enjoyed the luncheon, but she also had a lot of fun waiting on herself and helping to cook things of the gas stoves. She was no stranger to the 75 Outlook girls. She attended their Christmas party, and she knows most of them by their first names.

Miss Roosevelt did not say what time she would arrive. Thirty-five of the girls have their luncheon at 12 o'clock and the others at 1. The Outlook company furnishes sugar, milk, butter, tea and coffee, and also the room and stoves, as well as "Irish Mary," who takes care of the room and washes the dishes. The girls go out to markets and grocery stores to buy their food, then bring it back and cook it themselves.

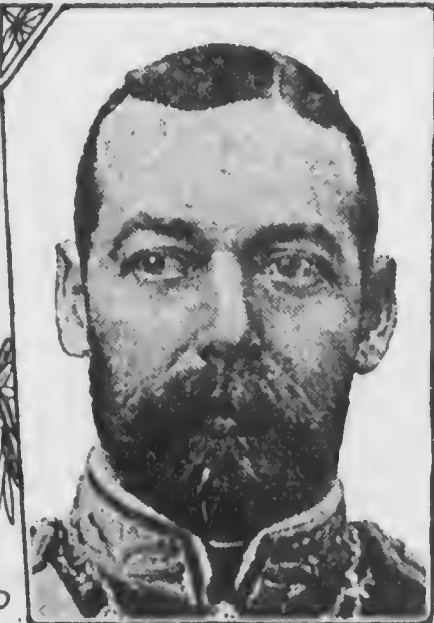

The 12 o'clock squad waited a long while in the hope that Miss Roosevelt would arrive before 1 o'clock. Then they went back to work disappointed. She arrived in a taxi-cab shortly after 1, to the great delight of the second squad of luncheoners.

Miss Roosevelt went immediately to the lunch room, threw off her furs, and unbuttoned her gloves and announced: "Now, give me something to do."

The girls told her she must sit down and wait till they served her, but the blood of her father wouldn't let her. Not a minute did she sit still. She helped to scramble eggs and make tea and carried the things to her table.

KING GEORGE MAY VISIT U. S.

That the plan to have King George visit the United States this year or next will be submitted to him soon seems assured, though in official circles not a word is being said aloud on the subject.

There is a feeling in court and political circles that such a visit, if practically, would present many very desirable features. But there are many difficulties in the way, not insuperable, but presenting for the diplomats and the statesmen a task that they regard as prodigious.

As is understood here, the plan would contemplate a visit by both king and queen to Washington, just as, according to ancient usage, the newly crowned sovereigns are required to pay their respects to the rulers of the European states. This custom might in effect be described as the returning of the calls made by the heads of other countries or their representatives upon the king and queen at the time of the coronation. At once a matter of etiquette arises—namely, that should the king and queen make such an after-coronation visit, the president of the United States would be expected to turn visit London and the other European capitals after his inauguration. Whether such a thing would be approved by the American people is very doubtful, for no president, as such, has ever crossed the Atlantic.

In any event it is believed unlikely that a royal visit to the United States could take place this year owing to the king's recent prolonged absence in India.

HAS MILLIONS FOR CHARITY

Probably in the history of philanthropy no woman has done more for charity than Mrs. Russell Sage, who, since the death of her noted husband, has been spending millions in the cause of humanity. Most of her work has been accomplished through the Russell Sage Foundation, the scope of which embraces a wide and worthy field. The movements helped by the foundation are as follows: The anti-tuberculosis campaign, the movement for public recreation, the placing out and management of children in institutions, the medical inspection of schools, the propaganda in behalf of children's school gardens, the propaganda for the prevention of blindness, especially among children, and the encouragement and extension of charity organizations.

These are not the only charities that have occupied the attention of Mrs. Sage. She has given large sums to the furtherance of education in this country. The principal universities have each received large endowments. Hospitals and homes for the aged and infirm have also been helped by her and her gifts.

PLAYERS DON'T KNOW RULES

President Lynch of National League Says Fans Want Something Doing Every Second

President Thomas J. Lynch of the National League and member of the joint rules committee, thinks the present baseball rules cover ever salient part of the game. Most of the fault is with the players, he asserts, not with the regulations of the diamond sport.

"No little thought is paid the playing rules of the game," said Mr. Lynch. "Just stop a minute and consider. How many ball players do you think are thoroughly conversant with the laws of the game by which they earn a livelihood? I do not believe that four in ten of the major league stars are absolutely sure of themselves. In the minor leagues the percentage is even less.

"No changes should be made in modifying play that could in any way offend the patrons of the sport. Let us look at the present playing code from the standpoint of the fan. Wherein are the rules at fault? How could they be improved?"

"The American public like action. For that reason the best game is the shortest, provided of course, that there is something doing every second. Last year the games in both major leagues were notoriously spiritless. There was plenty of hitting, which implies plenty of base running, plenty of scoring and plenty of sensational fielding. But the games were not unusually long.

"In my estimation, speaking of course, in an official capacity, all that the baseball rules need is polishing. It speaks volumes for the stage of perfection to which the national pastime has stepped just to recollect that the rules of today are almost identical with those of ten years ago. Since the foul strike rule went into effect there has been practically no change whatever in the playing code."

COAL INTO GAS

English Scientist Wants to Revolutionize Mining

A proposal which, if adopted, would revolutionize the coal mining business of the world, has been launched by Sir William Ramsay, the noted English scientist. He suggests that much of the expense of mining and hauling might be avoided if the coal was turned into gas in retorts in the bowels of the earth. The gas thus generated could either be distributed by pipe lines or used at the pit head for producing electricity, which could be distributed from there.

Cholera Scare

Much anxiety has been felt lately over the danger of introducing the dreaded Asiatic Cholera into this country, because of the immigration from the plague districts of Europe.

It says the strength of the body so fast that death often follows in a few hours. All forms of diarrhea and dysentery are very weakening.

A Valdoet, Gn., woman, Mrs. C. H. King, tells how she regained her strength. She says: "An attack of dysentery left me so weak and exhausted that it seemed impossible to regain my strength. But since using one bottle of Vinol I am perfectly well again. Vinol will do wonders for anyone who needs new strength and more flesh."

There is no doubt at all that this delicious cod liver and iron remedy without oil possesses wonderful power to renew flailing strength and vitality, and build up the body. If you are not as strong as you ought to be you need Vinol, and we guarantee that it will build you up and make you strong. J. C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

DRUGGISTS TO CONVENE

State Association Will Hold Convention in Frankfort June 18th-20th

The Kentucky Pharmaceutical Association will meet in Frankfort this year on June 18th, 19th and 20th, and the druggists of nearly every town in the State will be in attendance.

The matter of the date and place of holding this year's meeting was left to the Executive Committee of the Association and the committee took a small vote on the place of meeting and Frankfort won. This announcement was made yesterday by Dr. J. W. Gale of that city, who is Secretary of the association.

The association will hold business sessions in the mornings of June 18th, 19th and 20th, and the afternoons of the three days will be devoted to social pleasures.

On one of the afternoons, a trip up the Kentucky river will be given the delegates and their wives and daughters on a big steamboat; on another afternoon a trip on the Kentucky Highlands railroad to the Old Taylor Distillery will be given them, a special train carrying the visitors; on the third afternoon a trip to Lexington will be taken, the members of the Association being the guests of the Lexington druggists while in that city. While in Lexington a visit to the Haggin farm will be made and a lunch will be served at the Country Club.

A dance will probably be given for the visitors during their stay there, and also a big supper or bridge party at the Capital Hotel.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound in your ears, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; unless a cure is obtained by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Contrary to expectations the State Agricultural Extension train arrived here last night several hours ahead of time. It came from Vanceburg where the train was greeted by an enormous crowd. The train will be open two hours from 9 to 11 o'clock this morning, and will be visited by thousands of Mason county farmers and citizens of Maysville.

The Mason county schools are here in a body, at least three hundred scholars and teachers from Mayfield and Minerva visiting the agricultural college on wheels and took in the grand sight.

The train is made up in the following order: Car No. 1 is devoted to Agronomy and in charge of George Roberts of the Agricultural College and Joseph Wing, the agricultural authority from Ohio. The second car is in charge of Prof. Matthews of the Horticultural Department of the College. No. 3, the Domestic Science car is in charge of Miss Knowlton, Dean of Domestic Science of the University of Iowa; Miss Aubyn Chinn and others. Car No. 4 is the dairy and No. 5 is the Pullman. No. 6 is devoted to the dairy business. Car No. 7 is a palace horse car and has representatives of the livestock world, two typical steers, two milk cows, two hogs, two sheep and a department devoted to the poultry industry. The last car is a flat car for live stock exhibits and demonstrations. Every branch of farming, fruit growing and livestock is represented.

At practically every stop two hours were given for the lecturers and great crowds turned out for instruction, all of which is free to those who attend.

There are twenty-eight persons aboard the train, President Henry S. Barker of the State University; Dr. M. A. Scovell of Experiment Station; Commissioner of Agriculture Newman, Prof. E. C. Martindale of Indiana, and Prof. G. D. Smith, head of the Horticultural Department of Richmond Normal School, lecturers, and others.
